"I cannot begin to express how valuable Donna's keynote was to our conference. It dynamically set the stage for much of what made our conference a success!"

Take Five, Survive and Thrive Conference of Arts Management 2006

Donna displays a wide range of literary, philosophical and pedagogical knowledge in a way that entertains, enthralls and enlightens. She effectively illustrates how the experiences and disciplines of music are valuable tools for the business world with its stresses and demands.

"The intellectual underpinning was what tied it all together. Donna brought together references from many different sources and tied them together into a multifaceted construct, which was very appealing to our museum audience. This structure was then overlaid with rich cultural references, emotional appeal and opportunities for people to make their own personal associations. It was quite a tour de force from an objective point of view and from its opportunities for emotional identification!"

Florida Association of Museums

"Donna sparked our collective imagination and ignited creative thought processes"

What makes Ms. Wissinger's presentations so engaging and memorable is the unique way she blends her world class flute playing with a powerful verbal and interactive demonstration.
